

Vignette: TWINS

You taught Sammy how a camera works but you didn't teach Sally.

But, Mrs. Johnson, Sally needed to do her math.

It isn't fair.

I love them both. I wouldn't be unfair.

Sally hates math. Can't you make school as good for her as for Sammy?

They're different kids.

You should be equal for both.